Last week my episode on Capgemini SuperTechiesShow . For the episode we were presented by a challenge from Amazon WS.

In the end is the link of the episode, for those who missed it (and interested in whatever we said).

To give an overview, we didn't make it to next round. However, audience liked us a lot, to the extent that our audience vote surpassed the votes of both the team, combined together. :-)

However, judges, whose opinion mattered most, had other ideas. Nevertheless it was nice experience meeting experts in the Industry and shooting for the show. If allowed, will try next year, with a more organized approach :)
